MENELIK wants 25 millions, and if he gets them, will probably retire to private life to enjoy a well earned rest! His darky Majesty seems to be of a refined taste, for we hear that he has lately ordered 20 cases of Marcos Andersen's celebrated Tit-Bits biscuits, and has at the same time telegraphed for 35 copies of Scoevola's ode to Erin, which he intends to knock into the brains of his offspring by means of hard wood cudgels and Tit-Bits biscuits alternately for evil and good. To it, Your Majesty, and all success! 1143 m24 26

From a Gentleman in JAPAN
Tottori, Japan, Sept. 11, 1895.
Mason & Hamlin Co.,
146—Boylston St., Boston
Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

Montevideo, 24th.

The long announced "Tableaux Vivants," so picturesquely discribed in anticipation by the STANDARD, are to come off at the Kermesse to-night.

English sports to-morrow at the Blanqueada Cricket field. A large attendance expected, to be enlivened by the Newark band through the courtesy of Admiral Norton.

A Mr. J. M. M., of Spanish origin and of shady antecedents, has shipped for parts unknown with a cool fifty thousand gold proceeds of earnings and profoundly secret financial operations he had with the too confiding "Padres de la Patria."

No. 7777 took the twenty thousand dollar prize in the lottery to-day.

It was currently reported to-day that a well known family here has been surprised with a windfall of thirty-six million dollars good American gold! No Condors.

The new French Company of the mines of Cunapiru has doubled its capital and will now begin to work again. A Mr. Austchizki, an official of the Company, has been accused of abuse of confidence and fraudulent money tricks in connivance with an Oriental deputy, and has been sentenced to thirteen months' imprisonment.

THE CRISIS IN EUROPE.

The Cubans burn down more houses

The Question of Belligerency

Spanish troops again fire on one another.

Rome, 24.—The Russian Government offered to send a military hospital fully equipped for the Italians and another for the Abyssinians in Abyssinia, but the Marquis of Rudini is not inclined to accept this offer, on the ground that the Italians have their own Red Cross Association.

A telegram from General Baldissera announces that he has shipped 234 sick soldiers for Italy. There are one thousand sick and wounded in the hospital at Massouah. Part of these will be shipped by the next steamer.

Naples, 24th—The transport Sumatra arrived here this afternoon with 112 wounded soldiers on board, 14 of whom are in desperate state. The military authorities went on board to receive them and they were landed with the utmost care. Three died during the voyage. Though it is already spring-time, the cold is intense throughout the peninsular. Snow fell both yesterday and to-day in Piedmont and Lombardy.

Constantinople, 24th—It is rumoured that another large Turkish loan is to be taken up by a syndicate of French and Russian bankers.

Rome, 24th—The Senate Committee have unanimously approved the credits applied for by Government to carry on the war in Africa. The Bank of Italy will probably issue the loan of 140 million lire.

Rome, 24th—According to telegrams received from the head quarters in Asmara, Menelik has arrived in Ada Agamus with a strong force.

The Minister of War General Ricotti has sent a telegram to General Hellena, who is expected to arrive with the wounded the moment he lands to present himself in this city to explain his conduct in the Abdi-Garima battle.

The Massouah telegrams report that France is backing up Menelik in his demand for 25,000,000 liras, and by these means expects to be paid for the arms and ammunitions lent him.

Genoa, 24th—The Imperial train has arrived here with the German Emperor, the Empress and family. The royal party were received by the Duke of Genoa, who received them in name of King Humbert. The whole town is decorated. The Royal party subsequently embarked on board the Hohenzollern.

Washington, 24th—In the course of yesterday's sitting, the Senate threw out the idea of a conference on the question of Cuban belligerency. A new committee was named to study the question. Senator Mills moved that the United States Government ask Spain to concede Home-Rule in Cuba, and in case of refusal, protect the island if necessary by armed force.

New York, 24th—The Cuban Revolutionary Committee denies the report tha the rebels are short of armament. No less than eight cargoes of armament have been safely received by the rebels within the last six weeks.

Advices have been received via Kingston stating that the insurgents have burned and ravaged many properties in the suburbs of Havanah, as also in the province of Pinar del Rio.

Official Spanish advices state that the rebels burned down 75 houses in Punta Brava, ten miles west of Havannah, and retreated on the approach of a cavalry regiment sent to oppose them. Advices from the same source state that General Bernal defeated the rebels near Cienaga, inflicting enormous losses on them. The Spanish losses were insignificant.

Washington. 24th—Senator Platt presented the following motion to-day: That the Senate hope to see Cuba a Republic and that the United States should intercede with Spain for that object.

Washington, 24th—Senator Hale opines that the new committee will not agree on the Cuban Question.

Madrid, 24th—The appointment of a new Committee in the U. States Senate is considered here to foreshadow the rejection of the motion for the belligerency of the Cubans. The papers to-day advise the people to desist from hostile manifestations to the United States, since the majority of the U. States people are friendly to Spain.

Habana, 24th—Two large detachment of Spanish troop fired on one another today near this city, each one believing the other to be a rebel force.

The killed were 27 and the wounded 91, including several officers.

The engagement lasted nearly an hour. General Weyler has ordered a strict enquiry into the grievous error.

Rome, 24th—The debate in the Senate on the war credit for 140 million lire has continued all day.

General Primerano and Ricotti were much applauded for their speeches proposing that a formal letter of sympathy should be addressed to the widow of the unfortunate General Da Bormida.

Rome, 24th—It is said that the Pope has decided to establish an Apostolic Nunciate in Switzerland, at Berne, in view of the great progress of the Catholic faith in the Swiss Republic of late years.

United Kingdom

London, 24th—A telegram from the far-east states that the rebel Coreans attacked the Japanese troops near Fusan; but that they were eventually repulsed after hard fighting with a loss on the insurgents side, of 100 killed.

Germany

Berlin, 24th—The International Psychological Congress at Munich will open on August 4th. Most of the European nations will be repsesented at it.

The Reichstag voted to-day the Budget presented by the Government and immediately afterwards adjourned till the 16th April.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 24th—Preparations for the coronation of the Czar have commenced at Mascow. A host of workmen are adorning the Kremlin and the principal streets of the city.

Servia

Belgrade, 24th—There is much comment in political circles on the recent "rapprochement" bbtween Servia and Greece and an all alliance the two nations is spoken of.

France

Paris, 24th—Thanks to the exertions made by the Minister of France in Pekin' M. Gerard, the Government of China has conceded the necessary authorization for the extension of the railway from Haiphong to Langson in Tonkin to a point inside the Chinese frontier where it will form a junction with the line which it is proposed to construct to Canton and other cities of the empire.

United States

New York, 24th—A fire occurred yesterday in the business quarter of the City of Colon, by which property was destroyed valued at a quarter of a million hard dollars.

Austria

Vienna., 24th—It is officially announced that Emperor William will visit this city on the 14th prox.

Chile.

Valparaiso. 24th—The Ley states that the object of Minister Quirno Costa's return to B. Ayres is to present to his Government Chile's propositions for the settlement of the Limits' Question. The bases of the propositions are as follow:—

To proportionately divide the Puna de Atacama between the two nations.

To pursue the surveys of the boundary line between the 23rd and 42nd parallels, and in case of difference to submit to arbitration. The 42nd Parallel to be fixed as the basis of demarcation.

Brazil

The mortality on the Lombardia.

Rio Janeiro, 24th—The latest from the Isla Grande is that six men have died on board the Lombardia; at the end of this month this vessel leaves for Cabo Verde.

There were 32 deaths from yellow fever yesterday.

Exchange on London at 8¾.

Argentine Republic

The burning of the Gauchat House.

Rosario, 24th—The losses caused by the fire is the house of Gauchat and Co.'s firm amount to $95.000, while the insurance was only 70,000.

The political situation is quiet. Gandolfi has organized a new body of bomberos.

The vessels loading here have all to leave with half cargo, as the river is very low.

The movement in the markets is very slow. Special wheat only fetches from 7 to 7.10 and linseed from 9.60 to 10.00 dollars.

ENGLISH AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION.

The extraordinary decadence of agriculture in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland has led to Her Majesty's Government adopting various measures to sift its causes and to call upon Parliament to pass measures of relief.

Both in and out of Parliament the subject has become the absorbing topic in the British Isles. At public dinners and at public meetings it is the burden of every speech, and even at the opening of Parliament Her Majesty's speech laid great stress on the matter, The Royal Commission on agriculture has drawn up an interim report which when submitted to the Queen will be published. The Royal Commissioners whose names are at the foot of this report are:—

Mr. Henry Chaplin, M.P.
Mr. Walter H. Long, M.P.
Sir Nigel Kingscote.
Viscount Cobham.
Sir Robert Giffen.
Mr. C. I. Elton, G.C.
Captain Owen Thomas.
Mr. F. A. Channing, M.P.
Mr. John Clay.
Mr. C. N. Dalton.
Mr. R. L. Everett.
Mr. John Gilmour.
Mr. George Lamber, M.P.
Mr. W. C. Little.

Some of the gseatest of English statesmen are perplexed as to the remedies possible to relieve the present great Agricultural Depression. Lord Reay presided last month at a most important meeting held at the Imperial Institute, London, when Mr. Charles E. Curtis delivered an address and proposed tree planting as a remedy. He said that there was no particular panacea for the agricultural depression, although he believed that the gravity of the crisis was practically over, but the burden of taxation might be more fairly adjusted. With regard to land, which could never under present circumstances be made to pay for cultivation, he recommended tree planting; he would not advise the Essex farmers to plant Oaks, but they might with advantage plant Larch and Scotch Firs. The State might assist by loans of money, and remission of taxation, while the trees were growing. For the first twenty years after the planting there would be no return, but figures show that eventually plantations of trees were very remunerative. On the chalk hills of Hampshire there were crops of Larch planted in 1873 which were very valuable; a large number of the trees were sold for hod poles. and they were now about a thousand trees to the acre, worth some 50 shillings per hundred as they stood. In the West of Hampshire on sandy soil and in the South of Ireland tree planting had also proved very successful, and he urged that trees planting would benefit the land owners, the tenants, the labourers and the State.

Mr. J. Lowther, one of the most prominent English Statesmen of the day made a great speech on the subject of agricultural depression. He said that he had intended to move an amendment to the Queen's speech, but that it had been pointed out to him that under the rules of the house he would be out of order The remedy he proposed was the adoption of the system of protection which in his judgment would have gone to the very root of the evils now afflicting agriculture; he took it as an incontrovertible fact that the depression in agriculture was unparalleled in the experience of any living man; he said, the remedies foreshadowed in the Queen's speech and in the public utterances of Ministers out of doors fell lamentably short of the real necessities of the case, and if passed into law would not materially affect agricultural depression. The people, theretore, were driven to look for other remedies; one of these he considered was what was called the "Dog eat Dog," according to which one section of the community was invited to devour another section. Such a policy could scarcely be expected to benefit the agricultural community. Another grand proposal for the English people was founded on the "Egg and Jam" theory, and that remedy would be absolutely futile. Then the notorious red herring had been trailed across the agricultural path, viz, the silver craze, which, as a practical remedy, might be dismissed as hardly deserving a moment's thought; silver using countries enter into no serious competition with British agriculture. In receiving a deputation connected with the hop industry, Lord Salisbury had stated that where, as in France, the experiment of protection had been tried in its extremest form, agriculture suffered as greatly as it did in England. Mr. Lowther asserted that there was no more unfounded statement made unwittingly by any mortal man, and it was the absolute reverse of the fact. It was the duty of the Government, he considered, by some means, to provide the people of England, Ireland and Scotland, not only with the supply of cheap food but with a certain and safe supply of food under all conditions. Mr. Lowther said that mere cheapness of supplies would not suit the people, unless those supplies were secure. Some plans should also be devised by which there should be a kind of sliding scale in the wages of agricultural labourers according to the prosperity or otherwise of the times. He hoped that the house would calmly and fully consider the question of the condition of agriculture. He knew perfectly well that no government could be expected to act in a comprehensive manner on questions like this, unless popular feeling had been thoroughly aroused. Governments could do no more perhaps than the present government were doing, but he trusted that the members would be fully alive to the fact that unless agriculture could be restored to a condition of prosperity it was idle to hope for a revival of industrial prosperity.

Mayor Rasch, who followed Mr. Lowther in the debate, said, that the bills which the government had apparently in their mind were looked forward to gratefully, and it was obvious from the speeches of the minister of agriculture that one bill was in the direction of relief from local taxation, he suggested that something should be done in reference to the tithe rent charge.

We give our readers the foregoing extracts from speeches, lectures and debates on this great subject of agricultural depression in England, so that they may the better appreciate the very high distinction paid by Her Majesty's Government to Mr. M. G. Mulhall, partner in the firm of M. G. and E. T. Mulhall the oldest editorial firm in Buenos Aires, and who is one of the proprietors of this paper.

LONDON LETTER.

THE POLITICS OF THE WEEK.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 28th.

Since the beginning of the week, Mr. J. Frost, a comparative stranger, has put his nose into the midst of summer-like winter and numbed us body and soul. Thank goodness, he is gone. This morning one can walk from room to room without consciousness of change of temperature. The street pavements have resumed their true London wet and shiny look, and the rumble of the cabs has its dear, old, natural sound. The sun shines withal, at intervals. To-day, by rights, is the last of winter. However, it is leap year. That accounts for the fact that amongst the enormous amount of correspondence Dr. Jameson has had to read at his seaside retreat is a letter from a widow lady who considers herself pretty well preserved, though she has two marriageable daughters. The lot—the three—she offers to the choice of the hero, should he wish to marry. Dr. Jameson is busy with his lawyers and may not wish to enter into any engagements until he knows how far he will be master of his own time within the next year or two. Sir John Bridge was very severe on the enormity of his crime. But magistrates have a trick of being severe at first when they intend to be lenient in the end. The fuss and secrecy of the police to prevent a triumphal entry on the part of Jameson and his fellow officers has been much laughed at. The excuse given—and it appears to be valid—was that it was necessary to arrest the men within the jurisdiction of the city of London. Purfleet, where the Victoria brought up, owing to the low state of the tide, was not within these limits. As you will have seen from the reports sent via Genoa, the noise and shouts in presence of President Kruger's victims proceeded from the two extremes of society—the directors and shareholders of the Chartered Company and their female belongings, with many other nice people, including Lord Salisbury's secretary, and the riff-raff of the streets. This division accurately represents the political condition of England at this moment. It makes public affairs unusually interesting. School-boards have raised a part of the proletariat out of the gutter, and given them a taste for the dazzle with which the newly enriched can tempt them, Bread and circuses, beer and battleships compared with the dull economies of the old Liberals are as "Consolidated goldfields" to Consols. The drab of the quaker has yielded to the glittering smartness of the wealthy Jew. The Liberal Goschens, the Peels, the aristocratic Cavendishes and the Plebeian Chamberlains as the "Unionists" have gone over to the wealthy party—as allies. But when Mr. Clancy, following what he thought was the Irish policy of the Unionists, brought up his Bill for the settlement of the evicted tenant question by Boards of Conciliation for the second reading, Mr. Gerald Balfour told him plainly he did not recognize the Unionists. There was only one party in power, the Conservative party. The Westminster Gazette notices this in the following words:—

"Yesterday's debate on the Evicted Tenants Bill can hardly fail to open the eyes of the Parnellites to the folly of looking for any effective remedy of Irish grievances from this Tory Government. Mr. John Redmond was at some pains in the Nineteenth Century to welcome Mr. Gerald Balfour's promised policy of "Killing Home Rule by kindness". The Parnellite leader, whilst protesting his continued fervour for Home Rule, gladly hailed the prospect of kind and sympathetic treatment for his country. Yet all that Mr. Clancy got for his most modest Bill was a direct slap in the face by Mr. Gerald Balfour and the Tory majority. The Bill provided that there was to be no compulsion, thus steering clear of one difficulty formerly raised by Unionists. A Board of Conciliation, or, failing that, the Land Commission, was to be empowered to confirm agreements between landlord and tenant, and to carry out arrangements as to sale and purchase. Funds to wipe out arrears and give tenants a fresh start were to come from Imperial funds, or, failing that, the Irish Church Fund—the latter proposal carrying out a suggestion made by Mr. Chamberlain. Here was an obvious chance for the Government to give a practical proof of their good intentions over this Irish question. The Bill received the support of Mr. Horace Plunkett and Mr. Courtney—two of the weightiest of non-official Unionists. Yet all that Mr. Gerald Balfour was found willing to do was to follow his uncle's example, and be a "stone wall" of most uncompromising resistance.

"The general tone of the Irish Secretary's resistance to the Bill was as bad as the resistance itself. Public money for evicted tenants? Certainly not, said Mr. Balfour, let those provide the money who took part in the agitation in the course of which the tenants were evicted. It was nothing to him that Mr. Chamberlain had once said that the money could most properly be taken from the Irish Church Fund—"I cannot conceive," the Colonial Secretary had said, "that a better course can be taken than to use it for that purpose. After all, he is only a Liberal Unionist, and doesn't count nowadays. But Mr. Balfour actually thought fit to throw at the heads of the Irish members the fact that a recent lifeboat disaster had resulted in a large subscription for the families of those who lost their lives. Here are his words:—

"I was immensely struck the other day with the wonderful ease with which a fund of £15,000 or £16,000 was raised in Ireland for the benefit of the unfortunate men who lost their lives in a life boat disaster. If it be true that there is this intense and burning interest all over Ireland in the case of the evicted tenants, why is it impossible to raise a private fund to assist them?"

"Upon the bad taste (we can say nothing else) of this we need not insist. But if this this is to be the tone of the Irish Secretary on Irish questions, we think we begin to understand why the Ministry are so anxious to pass new Muzzling Orders."

The partisan view I have quoted from the Westminster must be corrected in one respect. Mr. Arthur Balfour's muzzling measure or new rules of parliamentary procedure have been passed. Certain amendments were amiably agreed to by the leader of the House himself. There was no active opposition from the front benches. So long as the rules as now arranged are sessional and not standing orders they are of no great consequence. The real point in Mr. Gerald Balfour's speech was the veiled threat that the family triumvirate intend to make full use of a passive conservative majority, trusting that their allies the Unionists who have placed themselves between wind and water will not at present venture to rebel. This we have to see, much depends upon the development of Mr. Chamberlain's coloniai policy and of Lord Salisbury's foreign policy. The Westminster hits the point when it speaks of a "stone wall" and "uncompromising resistance." Mr. Gerald Balfour's reply to Mr. Clancy, in demonstrating the absurdity of employing public funds for the relief of a small remnant of Irish tenants who had set the law at defiance and virtually evicted themselves in pursuance of the plan of campaign, was every bit as logical and rational as Lord Salisbury's reply to Mr. Olney, and contained the same fatal defects. Defects that are part of Lord Salisbury's nature. His own friends and admirers know the fact and regret it. Setting aside the policy of the country it is sad to see the political independence of two clever young men, "les deux Ajax" of the conservative party, sacrificed to their uncle's cynicism. Anyone not sufficiently endowed with the bump of human nature to observe this complication is unfitted to judge political questions. It is not wise in our dealings with a foreign country or with a domestic political party, to place either at bay.

Mr. John Morley's large majority at the Montrose Burghs election, Sir Francis Evans's success at Southampton, followed by Mr. Courtenay Warner's victory at Lichfield, have made the Liberals talk of the turn of the tide, but in very low tones. The Tory majority will take a great deal of grinding down. Only the secession of the Liberal Unionists would make any material difference at present. This is always possible, but as far as we can judge it is not imminent. Unionism does not mean only or even mostly, the "integrity of the empire." It is not so much "no Home Rule" as "no Socialism." "No increase of votes to pamper the poor." And here the immense majority of the middle class are on the Unionist side. All we can expect is that Lord Salisbury will find he is completely mistaken in supposing that the late elections meant that the country is Tory. The ways of electors are inscrutable. The people at Montrose are many of them Leslies. The etymology of their surname is less-lea. They discovered that Morley meant more-lea. John Morley must therefore be a first cousin and they voted for him in crowds. The victory at Lichfield, where Mr. Warner multiplied the unseated member Mr. Filford's majority twelve fold, is all the more striking that Lichfield comes under Birmingham influence, and the Tamworth lord, Sir Robert Peel, who had voted for Filford, wrote from Cairo to tell his tenants to vote Unionist, as he himself had determined not to be a rebel—that is a Home Ruler. Poor Sir Robert Eccentricity is in the family.

A STORY OF CORRIENTES.

V.

The old man, who in his fright had shut me out, opened part of the door and called to me to enter. I went in and found his family kneeling in prayer before a statue of the Virgin of Itati. I in vain tried to calm him, but his fears appeared to be of something supernatural.

At last the storm passed over, and the old man, in compliance with my repeated inquiries as to the cause of his fears, related to us the following:—

I don't remember the date, he said, but it was one night many years ago, when the town of La Cruz was swarming with Brazilians and Portuguese, who had invaded the town and were burning the houses. My parents were close to the church putting out the burning clothes of a lady that ran out of her house crying for help. From inside the house could be barely heard the crying of an infant, and the house appeared to be one enormons flame of fire. It seemed impossible to put the fire out. After a while the cry of the infant appeared louder and more painful, and its father, the husband of the woman that was nearly burned, appeared at that moment and then ran into the interior of the house to where the child was. He was immediately surrounded by the flames, and part of the roof giving way fell on him, and his body was afterwards found burned to cinders. His unfortunate wife saw him perish, and, throwing herself on her knees and with eyes bathed in tears, cried aloud to the Virgin of Itati to help her, ran into the burning house towards the cradle where her little daughter was screaming, and in an instant seized her infant in her arms and ran out of the house, guided by a white vaporous light in the form of the Virgin of Itati. When the lady found herself free of the flames, she said to my parents. Take me far from here. The Virgin of Itati has allowed me to save my child from the flames and jaws of death. But I have lost my good and kind husband, and the flames have burnt out my eye sight. My parents, who succeeded in saving the money and jewelry belonging to the lady, did as she requested and took her far away from La Cruz, and settled on the banks of the Ibera. And here they made a house for the lady, whose ruins I will shew you to-morrow quite close to this 'rancho'.

Years after sitting around the fire taking 'mate' at night, the lady, who had her daughter by her side the latter grown up into a beautiful young woman, a fine specimen of a Guarani beauty, with her lovely black eyes and jet black hair, which seemed a pity so much beauty to be wasted in such a lonely bleak spot, reminded me how true the words of the poet are:

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.

The lady said to my parents "get ready the cart, and necessary provisions to eat on the road, as I wish to go to the church of the Virgin of Itati, and make an offering of all my jewelry at her shrine, and beseech of her to give me back my sight. Early the following day the lady's instructions were carried out and long before night fell all was ready to start next morning at dawn. In order not to cause any delay the lady and her daughter slept in the cart. At midnight the lady got up, and called my parents saying:—"I have just dreamed that the miraculous Virgin of Itati has heard my promise and has accepted my offering and will give me my sight back. I feel so happy, and I think I can see." My father lited a candle, and raised the canvas that covered the cart, and when they did so uttered an exclamation of joy and surprise, for the lady's eyes were as well as ever and she could see perfectly well. They were all so overwhelmed with joy and surprise that they continued the journey, so as to make the offering of the lady's jewels to the Virgin in her church at Itati. After fifteen days travelling, the lady placed at the miraculous shrine a small case containing all her jewelry.

Thus she complied with her promise, and the miracle was performed.

They were returning happy and contented, when some days after the lady commenced to think of her jewels, and got quite sad; she remembered they were presents from her parents who were dead and gone long ago, and some from her husband, who had so sadly died trying to save his child. She remembered all this, and got very sad, and in her grief she exclaimed: Oh. "The Virgin of Itati did not require my jewels, she could have given me back my sight without them."

They continued the journey, and night overtook them about one leagues from her house, and as the weather looked stormy they thought it better to continue so as to reach home. When the cart arrived the lady, who had been asleep, awoke, and gave such a scream, that it frightened us all, and my father went to her assistance: she said. I have just seen in a dream the "Virgin of Itati" and she looked very angry and threatening and said I will take your sight back again, and flung the case of jewels at me, I feel a great fear and am in despair. . . .Don't leave me she cried. . .make a light. . . I feel I cannot see. . . My father made a light, and saw the lady trembling all over; she was very pale and her eyes dull looking, and sightless, and in her hand she held the box of jewels she had left at the shrine. They opened the box and found it contained the same jewelry the lady had left at the shrine.

The storm that had been threatening burst with great fury and the waters of the Ibera were soon turned into enormous waves that dashed furiously on the beach, and the thunder and lightning were something terrific. And a large black bull with horns of fire came out of the lake flashing fire out of his eyes and nostrils which smelt like burnt brimstone; and bellowed so loud as to the shake the ground. The bull frightened the bullocks which were still yoked to the cart, and then chased the bullocks with the cart and lady and daughter into the raging waves of the Ibera.

LATEST FROM QUEQUEN.

The name cannot be unfamiliar to our readers, though its geographical position may be a puzzle. How many have held shares of the Quequen Company, and never dreamt of what they represented beyond their speculative value? Had they known Quequen, they would have kept their shares, but recriminations are out of date. Suffice it to say that it is the name of a deep, narrow rivulet, and of a most delightful sea-side resort on the shores of the Atlantic, south of Mar del Plata.

If you seek fashion, wealth, gloss and gambling do not come to Quequen; but if you need rest, comfort, ozone and the picturesque, by all means pack your trunks and bring your family to Quequen. You will find no town, no village, no juez, no police—but there is a large and comfortable hotel, styled as Balneario Quequen. The windows of your rooms look over the breakers of the Atlantic beating furiously under your feet; over a magnificent, sandy beach, superior to that of Mar del Plata, as no coast current will carry you off your legs and bear you towards Africa or Cape Horn. The utmost simplicity prevails in all the fittings and arrangements, but the greatest comfort is provided, whilst cleanliness rules supreme.

Quequen is, "par excellence," the sea-side resort for the family man who needs a rest and change of air, and can take his wife and children to what may be aptly styled a comfortable home on the sea-beach. There is no gambling, and there is no flash and flummery of high-life in its varied stages and still more varied costumes, whether in the morn or at night, on the beach or in the dining-room. You dress as you please, and the social tyrant is banished.

The Lord of the Manor is the genial D. Manuel Guerrico, who is always in the saddle. The landlord's agent, the rent collector, is the good-humored ever pleasant Carlos Voight, who states that there is no agitation in the country and that back rents are unknown. The absentee landlord of the great estate "El Moro" is Dr. Julio Puyrredon, a boon companion for whose arrival the tenants are ever praying. The owner of the hotel is a Spaniard, Mr. Arana, who has learned English during the summer months to better understand the requirements of his customers. The manager is a French gentleman who talks all languages and knows everybody, especially journalists, being a man of the pen.

In these surroundings, with the ocean before you and a good cuisine behind you, life passes pleasantly, and the over-worked, the worried, the invalid finds a change and a complete rest that soon restore vitality and health. A select few know Quequen well, for during the summer the families of Don Santiago O'Farrell, C. Huergo, J. Carballido, Paunero, Emilio Mitre, all find there villegiature here. At the present moment the only inmates in the large Balneario are Mrs. Lynch and her charming daughter, Miss Elena de Oro. Mr. and Mrs. La Madrid, Mr. George Walker and Mr. W. F. Mulhall. The company is often increased by Don Manuel Guerrico, Dr. Julio Puyrredon and family, C. Voight, and others. Every night there is a concert, and if there is no dancing it is because all get up so early that at night one sinks to bed exhausted after the daily dips and outings.

As for the weather in this month of March, it could not be more peasurable, it is the English summer. The water is not cold, the winds are not high, and the sun from breakfast to dinner is comfortably warm. The nights are fresh, and blankets are a necessary of existence in this latitude. To the wearied banker or merchant, to the worried broker or clerk, we can offer no better advice than to spend a week in Quequen, far from the fashionable crowd, yet surrounded with all the comforts of life and forming in the Balneario one of a home circle where excessive "etiquette" is carefully banished to other quarters.

THE FAR SOUTH.

The Villarino arrived yesterday in the Darsena from the Southern seas with the following passengers:—Mr. Mariano Muñoz from Tierra del Fuego, Miss A. Baez, daughter of the Commander of the Ushuaia, Captain J. H. Barnes and Señora, Governor of the State prison of Santa Cruz, Major Ganduglia, Lieutenant Rosario Videla, Captain J. Wilson from Port Deseado and Mr. A. Valdey Rosas, Inspector of the Custom-houses.

The Villarino met the Uruguay in Punta Arenas on the 28th of last month; she also passed the Azopardo, which took down the limits Committee en route to Cape Froward. The Uruguay had taken in coal for trip. The transport Ushuaia was at Rio Gallegos with a cargo belonging to Blanchard of Punta Arenas. The sub-prefect of Deseado was caught in some irregularidad and handed over to the judicial authorities of Chubut, the Deseado and Thetis sub-prefectures being amalgamated with that of Rio Gallegos and taken over by Comandante Crovetto. One of the settlers at Camarones Bay who has 16 leagues of camp and 6000 sheep has applied to Government to have the transports call there regularly.

The Villarino brings up 177 bales wool from Ushuaia, Gallegos, Santa Cruz and Deseado. According to the news given us by some of the officers, the South is progressing rapidly, houses of business and the number of sheepfarmers are daily increasing. They had some bad weather in Port Deseado, and were obliged to remain there two days.

WEDDING IN LOMAS.

Green Lomas was the scene of another very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the wedding of Mr. P. H. Vargas of the London and Brazilian Bank and Miss Pauline Mackern. Given the name of the bride it was no wonder that a large and influential party was gathered together in the beautiful fifteenth century chancel of Holy Trinity, Lomas. Brides always choose an afternoon wedding at Lomas because the little church there looks at its best with the setting sun shining through the stained glass windows and lighting up the varied groups. Mr. Charles Mackern looked pensive as he gave away another of his handsome daughters.

Owing to the absence of Mrs. Mackern in Europe, the reception, after the impressive ceremony at the church, took place at the well-known and hospitable residence of Mr. J. W. Hopkins, brother-in-law of the bride, to which a large party adjourned. Here were displayed the numerous and handsome presents, and a pleasant hour spent in the pretty grounds of the quinta.

After the health of the bride and bridegroom had been proposed by the Revd. G. G. Cocks in eloquent and kindly terms; the happy couple left amidst a shower of rice, congratulations and old boots, for Mar del Plata where the first part of the honeymoon will be spent, to be resumed later on in England where Mr. Vargas goes to spend a well-earned holiday under, as it turns on, the happiest circumstances.

Among the many present we noticed Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hopkins, Mrs. R. Mackern, Mrs. Smiles and Miss Smiles, Dr. Mackern, the Misses A. and E. Mackern, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Crowther, Mrs. and Miss Fowler, Mrs. Lloyd-Davies, Miss Nicholson, Misses Murray, Mrs. and Miss Boutell, Mr. and Mrs. Livock, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Miss Caldwell, Mrs. Belham, Mr. Haxell, Mr. Krabbé, etc. etc.

SPORT

The card for the fixture at the park is also a very inviting one and likely to give backers many a headache. Astoride is our fancy in the first with Becasse for a place and Maraton in the second. Ontario is said to be doing splendidly, so that he holds the classic easily whilst Pas de Quatre will have even less difficulty in the next. Brandzen, if well, should beat Sebastopol in the long distance. Demonio will be tried again in the sprint though we prefer the Indecis stable, and Pick-pocket with Espoir for a place should fix off the final. Our selections, therefore, are:—

Edison Stakes—P. Ecurie.
Landseer " —Maraton.
Ensayo " —Lincoln.
Pas de Quatre Stakes—Pas de Quatre.
Brandzen Stakes—Brandzen.
Osnio " —Indecis.
Independiente Stakes—Pick-pocket.

LAWN TENNIS.

The return between Flores and the B. A. Lawn Tennis Clubs comes off to-day at Flores, starting at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Cowan have kindly consented to preside at the tea-table, and the Criterion will serve lunch. The following are the respective teams:—

Flores Club.
A. Boyd and Revd. R. F. Handcock.
F. Foster and E. M. Theobald.
J. Macadam and J. Agar.
J. F. Allen and W. Agar.

B. Ayres Club.
T. V. M. Knox and V. Ker Seymer.
B. Verschoyle and H. Barr.
T. A. Forde and H. Woodgate.
A. Gumpert and T. S. Boadle.

CRICKET.

A match will be played to-day on the Rosario Railway ground between a Palermo A.C. team and the English High School. The game to commence at 12.15 punctually.

In the sport line Hurlingham and the regatta will call most attention, and we are promised a very good day indeed at Hurlingham, the card being an excellent one with the races all well filled. Owing to pressure on our space we must confine ourselves to giving selections without comment:—

Trial Stakes—Robert the Devil.
Free Handicap—Whitelegs.
Pigmy Stakes—Ben Nevis.
Gallery Handicap—Trafalgar.
Chocolate Stakes—Ramadan.
Hurdle Race—Rama Negra.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

Sr. Fermin de Silva, representative of a syndicate, has presented a petition to the Uruguayan Senate for leave to construct a railroad from the San Luis bar (Lake Merin) to the port of Coronilla. He offers to enlarge the port and to construct a loading-stage at San Luis.

Inspector Juan C. Elordi has been instructed by the Railway Board to examine the accounts of Central Cordoba Railway from 1889 to 1895, in connection with the guarantee question.

The representative of the Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway has petitioned the Minister of the Interior to allow it to have a voice in the question of the works to be constructed at the Central Station.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There is a most formidable lot of toil in the guise of pleasure on the cards for to-day. First and foremost the Regatta at the Tigre; then racing at Hurlingham and Palermo; Cricket at the Retiro and Lomas; Lawn Tennis Tournament at Flores, and last, not least, the great Italian demonstration in town. This tremendous demonstration will fill the whole of May Avenue with marshalled Societies, flags and banners, bands of music etc. etc. The Committee will take their station at the corner of Peru. The order of march will be down Florida to Calle Corrientes, to salute the Italian Minister, Count Antonelli, in the Legation there. The Minister and Dr. Magnasco will make speeches, and then the procession will march back by 25 de Mayo and the Plaza to May Avenue, where it will break up. It promises to be a great affair.

Affairs at home and abroad were rather quieter yesterday, and the bird that bosses the Temple of Gammon did not make such a racket as on Monday. From enfeebled Europe comes a hint of what we predicted when the Dongola ruction began. The Russian Bear won't back up Madame France in the Egyptian question, so the frisky and flighty matron is now thinking about letting Mr. John Bull alone, and sharing the expense of the expedition. It is ever thus with the fair and shrewish lady. Italian and Cuban affairs are still stuck in the mud; and our Cousin Jonathan is still spouting about the belligerency question. Our distinguished relative is terribly talky over this business. The anti-clerical papers of Europe are again at their favourite amusement of killing the Pope, and say he suffers from insomnia. This is flatly denied by the Vatican organs. From Chile, the news was peppery enough. Our neighbours now want to go halves in the Punta de Atacama, and arbitrate about the whole of the Panela Valley in the South. The story about the O'Higgins now is that she was bought long ago, but some wooden-headed functionary let out the secret. Sixty field batteries and 90,000 Mausers are the latest peace purchases of our hereditary foes. The news after dinner last night spoiled people's digestion. It was said that the Argentine Government had accepted Chile's proposals as to arbitration!!!! The Mercurio of Valparaiso is the authority for the stunning news, but nobody believed it. The Tiempo got the telegram. The hair of half the population is turning grey with these bombshell telegrams from Chile.

There was a large and influential attendance yesterday at the interment of the remains of the late Mr. Cuthbert Shoolbred in the Recoleta Cemetery. Amongst those present were Dr. Frias, Uruguayan Minister, several high officials of the Foreign Office, Dr. Ramos Mejia, Vice-President of the National College, Professors Pressinger, Murphy, Munro, Donovan and Sion, Dr. Candioti, Dr. Ricardoni, and many others.

The War Office has decided that the Sunday drill of the National Guards shall be for four months this year, from May 1st to August 31st. Now, young warriors, you know what is before you.

We call attention to the breezy letter from our Director, Mr. William F. Mulhall, from Quequen. It smacks of ozone and the rolling billows, of ferocious appetite by day and the sleep of a top at night.

Happy as the night was long were the holders of the following numbers in yesterday's Lottery:—22067, $50,000; 15555, 10,000; 12,948, 5,000; 10729, 20470, 2,000; 1412, 16396, 1255, 14870, 18918, 17420, 21161, 2357, 16952, 1,000; 18083, 3334, 6950, 14342, 2754, 3706, 19195, 20729, 3071, 14908, 8804, 1970, 1095, 11777, 21267, 16411, 11586, 500; 2743, 3750, 2507, 2079, 17339, 16955, 12981, 5054, 2467, 12397, 5721, 7377, 14889, 19215, 2187, 9804, 8765, 16063, 12517, 11758, 6718, 9375, 16096, 12042, 3443, 2518, 4277, 200.

Messrs. Feeney and Co., the well-known grocers in Calle Rivadavia, favoured us yesterday with copies of the Daily Graphic of February 18th, and Fun of the same date. In the first we see that when Nansen and his followers reached the North Pole recently, what was their astonishment to find, nailed to the Pole, an advertisement of Mazawattee tea, with the "grizzlies" playing round it. Fun shows Mr. John Bull offering Dr. Jameson a cup of the same world-renowned tea, to steady his nerves during his trial. Messrs. Feeney inform us that they have several copies of both papers at the disposal of their numerous customers.

A gay young "broking," littérateur got grievously "let in" yesterday afternoon as he was getting into a train at the Palermo station. His pocket-book was filched from him, containing nearly $200—just fancy $200 so near the end of the month, happy man! It is a lesson, dear readers, to you all to keep your coats buttoned to-day; and also not to go a-pleasuring in business hours when you ought to be a-broking.

The yellow-fever news yesterday could hardly have been better. It is not yet certain whether Comandante Jimenez Ramos, one of the Bearn's passengers in quarantine on Martin Garcia, really has the disease as reported on Monday. Neither on board the floating hospital nor on any vessel in the roads, was there a suspicion of the Brazilian malady.

To-day being a feast day, the irrepressible Frank Brown has organized a special programme for the afternoon performance in the San Martin, dedicated to the British and North American communities. Now, little ones, here's a chance for you.

We feel much pleasure in welcoming back our talented and esteemed colleague Mr. Michael Dinneen of the Southern Cross, who has returned unexpectedly, as he only left a month ago for a sojourn in old Ireland.

The population of Montevideo is decreasing, a very bad sign indeed. Up to September last it was growing in a very satisfactory way, but since then it has fallen off as follows:

Sept	1	....	244,869
Oct	1	.....	244,363
Nov	1	.....	244,079
Dec	1	.....	243,941
Jan	1	1896.....	243,781
Feb	1	".....	243,486
Mar	1	".....	243,289

Our daily English colleague there the M. V. T. attributes this to the miserable commercial and industrial policy of the Borda Government, and there can be no doubt as to its being the main cause of the falling off in the population, as it has deterred immigration.

Oh! Gracious! Our national game, that won Waterloo, according to our great countryman, the Iron Duke. The Montevideo Times says that Cricket is making no progress in the Plate, and it accounts for this by saying that Lawn Tennis, "which is in many respects its superior, has taken its place." Oh! what heresy! Namby-pamby Lawn Tennis superior to Cricket!!!! No wonder if foreign Powers think that the downfall of the British Empire is at hand.

From Durazno, (B. O.) is reported the death of a colored woman named Casimira Araujo, at the ripe age of 103, and it is added that until very recently she earned her own living. She had lived in the city since its foundation in 1821, and could tell anecdotes of all the revolutions through which she passed. It is strange that these centenarians are nearly always colored people.

The telegraph line between this city and Patagones is evidently at death's door. A letter from a despairing business man down there says that of the 365 days in the year, the telegraph only works on 65 days. There is only one line, and evil persons along the route make an amusement of cutting it.

Respecting the recent case decided by the Courts condemning Dr. Rosetti, the Registrar of Deeds, to pay up the full value of a mortgage on a house which his office certified was clear of all incumbrance, we are informed that this is not the first case of the kind, as many years ago a similar case and similar judgment occurred. Our informant says that, in the recent case the whole thing was one of sheer neglect on the part of the clerk; nothing more.

Yesterday many friends called to congratulate us on the appointment of our brother editor, Mr. M. G. Mulhall, to the high post of Agricultural Commissioner by Lord Salisbury. One old friend of Don Miguel's said that it was a remarkable fact that Cervantes, the immortal author of Don Quijote, held a similar post under the Spanish Government, and that it was the great insight he obtained of farming life in Spain that induced him to write his unrivalled Don Quijote. Mr. M. G. Mulhall will travel through all the principal farming districts of Northern Europe and will obtain valuable experiences which may probably lead to his writing another of his excellent works.

Will no man accept the post of Financial Minister for the Province of Buenos Aires? We hear that the Governor gives it up and will only keep a book-keeper. Thirty years ago old Don Tomas Armstrong said, "What this country wants is not a grand Finance Minister, but merely a good, honest book-keeper."

"Apropos of the sixty-fifth birthday of Lord Salisbury, and of Her Majesty the Queen attaining her seventy-seventh year this spring, it is curious, says the Lady's Pictorial, to note how many personages of advanced age at the present moment rule the destinies of Europe or take part in their councils. In Germany we have Prince Hohenlohe Premier at the age of seventy-seven, aided by Prince Bismarck, who is now in his eighty-first year. In Russia, Prince Lobanoff guides the foreign policy of that country, the senior of Lord Salisbury by two years. In Austria Count Kalnoky has just retired at the age of seventy-two, his successor, Count Goluchowski, being sixty-five. Crispi, the ex-Italian Premier, is seventy-seven, and so forth. Among foreign potentates we have the King of Denmark, a year older than the Queen, and now the oldest sovereign in Europe, and that 'young man,' the Emperor of Austria, of the same age as Lord Salisbury. Again, the Prince of Schaumberg-Lippe is seventy-eight, King Oscar sixty-seven, the Grand Duke of Baden seventy, the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz seventy-six, the Dukes of Altenburg and Oldenburg sixty-nine and sixty-eight respectively, and King Leopold sixty-one. Lastly mention must be made of the spiritual Sovereign, the Pope, of the same age as Mr. Gladstone, and still in a fair state of activity, both physical and mental."

Our lunch room yesterday presented an unusual attraction—nothing less than two dozen of sausages kindly presented by Mr. Pinckney, and deliciously served up by the STANDARD "chef." Unfortunately, our office was crowded with the subscribers who came to congratulate us on our brother-editor's appointment and remained to lunch; the sausages disappeared in the twinkling of an eye, from which we infer they were good.

The following are the principal prizes drawn in the Montevideo Lottery yesterday:—N° 7777, $20,000; 8643, 1,000; 7806, 5998, 500; 3085, 9988, 6384, 3260, 2450, 9587, 1799, 4139, 2048, 2778, 200; 8973, 7099, 6113, 3019, 5029, 6055, 2311, 7004, 1651, 7744, 6295, 6941, 1952 and 5738, 100.

All the camps in the South of the province of Buenos Aires are covered, not with cows, mares and sheep, but runaway sailors. Such a wholesale desertion from the Argentine navy was never before heard of. 150 sailors, all with 4 months' pay in advance, have skeddadled from the ships for the sheep farms, and the push now is to catch them: The Provincial authorities have been applied to and every 'alcalde' in the country is on horse-back cutting camp after the sailors. The mistake, of course, was giving the sailors 4 months' pay in advance: never in all our life did we before hear of such a blunder.

Mr. Daniel Morgan, we suppose one of our subscribers, has munificently subscribed $5000% to build one of the pillars of the Lujan Basilica. At the rate the subscriptions to this noble work are coming forward, there will be no scarcity of money to finish the temple.

The "novedad" of the day at Mar del Plata is the victorious assertion of Woman's Rights in the gambling line. The ladies, after much praying and coaxing, have been admitted to the "hell" at the Bristol, and have taken to roulette and trente et quarante so fast that their husbands and male relatives are prematurely old, in spite of the bracing effects of bathing and the sea air. All the fair punters are bent on breaking the bank, like Dr. Syntax, but up to the present the bank has cleaned them all out of their bottom dollar of pin money.

We find the following paragraph in the Rio News:—"On Saturday the Paiz announced that Mr. Phipps, the British Minister, had sent $100 to the Austrian Consulate to provide the immigrants on Flores Island with water. On Sunday the Jornal do Brazil criticised this act of charity, considering it a gratuitous reflection on Brazil. And yet the visit of the President proves all that has been said about the place, and shows the need of charity. Instead of making war on everything English, not excepting charities, the editor of the Jornal would do well to advocate the correction of such abuses."

The famous St. Cloud Fetes begin on the 4th of next month. The "locale" this year is the Arcadia Gardens where they were held with such marvellous success two seasons since. Great preparations are already being made.

Visitors to the Regatta to-day need not make any preparations, as the Criterion will supply all luncheons and refreshments. This well known restaurant is in such great demand as public caterers, that they find it difficult to comply with all the call upon their resources. To-day they are at Lomas, Flores, and the Regatta, as above stated.

The Prince of Wales is a far shrewder man than most of his future subjects imagine, and knows well how to soft-soap the "nation of shopkeepers" he will rule over. There is something humorous and truly Socialist in the following story; but His Royal Highness is so chronically hard up that he may often, perhaps, envy rich shopkeepers. What custom a shop with Tum-Tum for a partner would have, especially if the genial Heir Apparent were to stand behind the counter for an hour every day as a salesman. If he really means business, we should say that our American Cousins would give him to their bottom dollar as a salary:—"The Prince of Wales has not that contempt for trade which many a lesser social personage possesses. At the Marlborough Club one evening an intimate of the Prince asked him how he liked the idea of having his relations in business—an allusion to the Lorne-Fife connections. "If——would have me" answered the Prince, mentioning the name of a prosperous London shopkeeper I would go into partnership with him myself to-morrow."

Cupid is using up his quiver at a most tremendous rate in Belgrano. We see exactly one round dozen of marriages announced to come off there shortly; so clergymen, Civil Registrars, carriage masters, florists, tailoars, dressmakers etc., are in rather high spirits at the prospects of the "busy season" before hem.

We find in the last number of the Boletin of the Argentine Geographical Society a very interesting article, from the able pen of Mr. Juan B. Ambrossetti on the prehistoric arrow and human bones brought from Chubut recently by our friend Mr. John William Reade, and which he kindly left on view in our museum for several days. The curious relic was found near Rawson by one of the Welsh colonists, while ploughing. We recommend antiquarians to read Mr. Ambrosetti's scientific article, which is highly interesting.

Venezuela is one of the cheekiest little Powers on earth. Its Congress is now engaged in discussing the recognition of the Cubans as belligerents!! Such a ridiculous parody of the action of the United States Congress is enough to set the whole world laughing.

FIRST RING 221.80%
SECOND RING..... 222.00%

As might have been anticipated from the feeling at the close of business yesterday, the market broke back very decidedly to-day at the first hour, and it would seem as if the force of the bullish current were spent and exhausted. Rates opened weak all round and the bulls began to get sick when they saw an avalanche of cash gold coming down on them; it was regularly pumped on to the market as fast as buyers could be found, and this made the bulls sicker still, though they fought the ground inch by inch. It was said, from thoroughly reliable quarters, that there is no foundation whatever for all the din and clang of rupture and war going on; that the negotiations as to whether it will be watershed or peaks are going on as well and smoothly as possible on the best of possible footings, without the remotest prospect of tension or hitch—at present: and that the alarms all spring from interested sources, one telegram couched, "keep the alarms humming," or words to that effect, as a lawyer would say, having been traced back here from Santiago. This paved the way for improvement and opened up a prospect of some bull-baiting. Exchange was reported improved, some business doing and more bills offering. But withal the bulls stick to their guns, wag their heads sagaciously and ominously at the Chilian 'pax multa' news, deride any possible reaction in exchange with imports going up and exports sinking, point out the fall in Argentine stocks in London, apprehend everything apprehensive at home or abroad, and waxing vigorous with the very pessimistic tone of their own colouring pin their faith and hope to an uncompromising and wholesale spurt in the premium next month—as even they themselves seem to think that this month has already had its innings. So far as material for speculation goes the bulls have it all to themselves, the bears' potent argument being the enormous supply of ready gold that seems available at any advance in prices. Matters appear, therefore, pretty evenly balanced and probably will establish an equilibrium until the liquidation is over.

The total of the gold business at the first hour just fell short of a million dollars, operations for cash and end of month accounting for the great bulk. The cash price opened at 322 ½ weak and relaxed to 321 ½ fluctuating for some time between this rate and 322 ¼ when it stiffened to 323 and touched 323.70; this brought a rush of sellers, however, and the rate unbent rapidly again to 321, closing slack at 321.80. The "pase" for end of month and April shortened a trifle, but it was noted that there was not much anxiety or disposition to sell for latter date, and the prices closed at 322 and 326 respectively. In stocks some Nat. A and F changed hands at par and 80.40 which denote weakness, a small lot of 8% being marked up at 18 ½. Spanish bank keep firm at 11 ¼ whilst 150 Banco del Comercio shares, a stock that does not often come on the market, were sold at 68 ¼-69.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

The news of gold found in Paraguay has fairly electrified the market, as a period of 25 summers or winters, or both, (as if eternal summer reigns there, Paraguay has had an uninterrupted spell of economic winter) has rolled by since Gral. Mansilla posted down from Asuncion, stalked into Buenos Aires with his belt and pockets full of samples and declared that he had found El Dorado. The news spread like wild-fire; everyone rushed to get shares which soared to a height never since approached here, even in the boom, and such was the enthusiasm that fortunately but for the mines being so far away, the whole city would have turned out to scoop in the treasure. But the turn soon came and with it a revulsion in feeling. The mines gave out or gave in, as there was nothing in them; the whole business or bubble collapsed and some people were so exasperated over the failure that they hinted very broadly that the mines had been "salted." Fortunes were lost and fortunes were made, but since that in, auspicions occasion it would have been holding out a red rag to a lull to talk of a Paraguayan gold mine. But things have also undergone a great change since then and it is to be hoped that the former disaster has faded so completely as to leave a clear field for the enterprise, Mr. Busk is now to the fore. He knows more about Paraguay than, perhaps, even the Parguayans themselves, and his name is a guarantee of the genuineness of the samples and the business. The Paraguayan Government if it were only awake to the value of Mr. Busk's services would make him a free gitt of say 10 square leagues of land to signalize the event and we hope soon to lay before our readers full particulars of this gold find, which, while bringing up again almost forgotten memories tinged with bitterness open a new field and perhaps a new era for poor Paraguay.

We are indebted to Mr. Luis Cincinata Bollo for his monthly statement of the vital statistics of Montevideo. We gather from this document that the population of Uruguay was 822,892 on the 1st of January last year. The estimated population of Montevideo last month was 243,500. The arrivals during the month were 6,146 and the departures 6,404 shewing a balance against the country. The number of births in Montevideo during the month was 498 and the number of deaths 305.

Bread looks like running up in Australia, as the grist for the mill has run so short that large orders have been filled for Californian wheat for the eastern colonies. An Australian paper calculates 14 or 15 sailers chartered to load about 30,000 tons, space in addition, having been engaged on most steamers for several months to load about 15,000 tons more between wheat and flour,so that this total in immediate prospect meant 45,000 tons or say 1,680,000 bushels for the Australian granaries. The total cost is estimated at a quarter of a million sterling which will mostly be settled through London.

Disasters never come alone. Santa Fé is having a perfect hailstorm of them. In addition to the fire that wrecked the Cervantes theatre, as reported in our last issue, and,which means a loss of $20,000 covered to the extent of $16,000 by insurance, at Lehmann colony a big camp store, the property of Mr. E. Ganchat, also took fire, damages $75,000, insurance $70,000. Suicide is also rife—two cases in Rosario yesterday—and there can be little doubt that the crisis in the province from the loss of the crops will, unfortunately, manifest a development of this tendency in the working classes.

There is quite a big portion of the English Colony still at Mar del Plata. Mr. Ennor of the London and Brazilian Bank, Mr. Gregory of the Southern Railway, Mr. Pruden of the Fabricantes Ingleses, Dr. O'Conor, Mrs. Kinch, Murray Mackill, Gonn, Evans, Robinson Still, Smith and Wallace of Lamport and Holt's: and we note as a coincidence that since Mr. Wallace's departure freights have improved. Mar del Plata is still very gay despite its being the tail end of the season.

At the close of the first hour Don Ramon Garcia mounted the rostrum, expanded his chest, doffed his hat(fixed his glasses firmly, made a general and comprehensive salute that disarmed even the bulls, and in the suavest af accents announced his intention ot purchasing for account of the Nat. Mortgage Bank 950,000 at the very lowest figures that his kind friends were prepared to sell. It took hours to unload the amount required, and as the detailed list is too long for our column, we give the following resúmen—Csdulas

Exchange was quiet to-day though brokers reported more doing and rates firmer. We heard of some sterling passed at 47 15/16d. and francs at 5.05 ¼. Rates are quoted:

London 47 ⅜ —48d.
France 5.05 ½ —06.
Antwerp 5.06 ½ —7.
Hamburg 4.09—10.
Rio 8 ¾.

Discounts keep hard at 9% paper.

To-morrow being a holiday there was very little animation in business at the second hour, and about 50,000 covered all the requirements for ready gold, the rate opening at 321 ¾, stiffening a bit to 323 and then swooping to 322 at which it closed—flattish. For end of month a fair amount was marked done—over half the total—at say an advance ot about half point on Thursday's rate, but for April business was again quiet, the "pase" running on a level of 4 points. Stocks were quiet.

To draw a parallel we notice that this day last year we had gold at 349 and exchange as high as 48 ¼ d, say 1 ½ % higher than it is now ,and a broker drawing attention to this to-day remembers doing a business at 48 ¼ %. This would seem to point that gold is still cheap, but as there has been a very stiff advance in the premium already this month and exchange has come down in abound almost, the co-relation between the respective rates of to-day and last year will not bear a proportion. It smacks nevertheless of high gold next month.

At five o'clock there were no buyers at 322.

The Villarino has brought up large quantities of wool this trip. This clearly shows the effects of the measures taken by our Government, as formerly all the wools from Tierra del Fuego and those Southern parts were directly exported to England. Estancieros, however, seeing the advantage of having Argentine transports touching at their ports, prefer to consign their produce to Buenos Aires. As the times change we shall have our Southern camps probably ail pobiared with farmers from the Falklands, as they find themselves too restricted to-breed on a large scale. The piles of wool from the transport Villarino only denote that the interest in sheep farming his more in this market than European ones. Our Government should consider this question and make it easy for all estancieros down South to send up their produce here, as formerly it was a dead loss to the country, not having to pay any duties, whereas if sold here, exporters are bound to pay what is legal.

There is nothing new about the vacancy in the Finance Office in La Plata. Dr. Udaondo seems to experience great difficulty in finding a financial dry nurse, and it was reported to-day that Dr. Bilbao had been offered the post and declined. Perhaps the candidate believed in the old adage about changing the name and not the letter.

The well known Bolsa broker, Mr. Jose Weiss, who has arrived up from the Mount with his family, was welcomed to-day.

Mr. E. Healy, the Bolsa King, has not made his appearance for some days, and it is reported that he is in Mar del Plata, putting into practice an infallible martingale that is to break the bank and wind up the season there. The King has got such wonderful tuition in all that touches combinations, that we should not be at all surprised to hear of the business coming off.

We have to thank Lord Mayor Bunge for the finest map of the city that has yet graced any wall. We have added it to our collection alongside the atlas, and request our readers to some and see it.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

We heard to-day the sale reported of 1000 steers by an estanciero near Maipu, at $40, half delivered immediately and the remainder within a few months. The animals were purchased by him only a short time ago at $30 per head, and as they did not get altalfa even to fatten on, the business is a very good one, and shews what is going on in this line.

Business as usual was dull at the markets to-day. At Tattersall's a fine lot of young Lincoln rams imported by Mr. Ewart were disposed of as follows:—

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The feeling all round this morning denoted a change for the better. Cereal men seemed more inclined to transact, and if one leaves wheat aside, the cause is clearly seen in the rise in linseed and the appearance of the new maize crop.

The telegrams from London state that there are several wheat buyers at 24s. 9d. and linseed at 30s. 6d. The Antwerp markets have not changed since yesterday. Evidently the news sent to Europe about the bad condition of our crops has found little footing, as everybody notices that, if anything, the exterior demand is greater than that which exists here. Were we to flood those markets, adios River Plate cereals; it is only by remitting small quantities at a time that we keep our level—a fall one day is easily counteracted by a rise the next. As a proof of this theory we can only give the current prices in our own markets when cereals were scarce, and the prices offered to-day when the supply is greater than the demand.

The wool markets presented a better aspect this morning, some 600,000 kilos were sold, but prices hung on to their old stage. The best sale of the season was made by Messrs. Devoto. Balbiani and Co., the parcel was one from Entre Rios and comprised some 40,000 kilos special fine wool, and fetched the high price of 9.50 the 10 kilos. The lot must have been exceptional when such a well known authority as Don Carlos Fremery bought it. 5,000 kilos lambs' wool at 8.00 and the cross lambs at 9.00. The same firm sold 7,000 from the Province of Buenos Aires at 8.50 and 9.00 and 30,000 kilos "pasto fuerte" at 7.40 and 8.

As we have already stated Messrs Devoto, Balbiani and Co, have sold Entre Rios wool at the hightest price known in this market during the present season.

The other sales ran as follows:

CENTRAL

Cross-Lincoln wool—7000 kilos at 10.60, 5000 do 10.50; 10,000 do 10; 5,000 do 9.90; 32,000 do 9.80.

"Mezcla" wool—6000 kilos at 8.80; 5000 do 8.60; 10000 do 8.50; 7000 do 8.50; 5000 8.40; 5000 do 8.20.

Fine—11000 kilos at 9.50; 5000 do 9.20; 5000 do 9; 2000 do 8.80.

"Mezcla"—2000 kilos at 7.60.

"Potro"—40 at 6.30.

Potro hair—100 kilos at 14.00.

An exchange from London gives us the following comments on Argentine produce, and although we notice some items which may damage Argentine wheat, the London markets are well aware by this time how affairs stand. The telegrams arrive so fast now that correspondence from here generally arrives at late date: however, we give the following:—

"Messrs. Power and Duggan write from Buenos Aires, under date 23rd January, and confirm former accounts of the damaged wheat crop of Santa Fé and Cordoba, but say that Buenos Aires has a better crop which will in part make up for the shortage in the two provinces mentioned, where the exportable surplus will be 30 per cent. less than in 1895. Linseed is a miserable crop.

"Argentina has commenced shipping wheat, in earnest, the quantity reported for the last week being 101,000 qrs., against 120,000 qrs., in the corresponding week last season. Since Jan. 1 the total this season now amounts to 225,000 qrs., compared with 404,000 qrs., in the corresponding period last season and 250,000 in 1894. Maize shipments in the week just ended were heavy, 179,000 qrs. being sent to Europe, against 143,000 the week previous."

Owing to the rise in gold a slight reaction was noticed in the cereal operations this morning. The demand for sound wheat is steadily increasing, and if exporters and millers would only pay more attention to the quality of the grain than to the fluctuations of the gold ring, the old activity would soon reappear. The sales in wheat were 2000 tons in Villa Constitucion, placed in waggons, in the Rosario port at 7.10, and 1000 do in Rosario at 6.95. The "consumo" paid for superior barletta in Catalinas 7.90, middling 7.20 and in the Once 7.50. A certain improvement was also visible in maize, exporters showed a little more decision in their transactions. Yellow maize was quoted in the Once at from 3 to 3.10, in the Riachuelo from 3.10 to 3.30, and in La Plata at 3.25. A couple of sales were reported, which were 1500 tons on board at 3.40, and 2000 tons in the Darsena to be received outside at 3.50. The first contract in new maize was reported to-day, the contract is for 2500 tons to be delivered in La Plata at 3.20 during May and June.

Linseed followed the routine of the other grains and commanded much more attention than usual. Exporters paid from 9.30 to 10.50 in the Once, and in the Darsena a parcel of 3000 bags was sold at 10.60. That's the style. The only thing wanting is a steady basis, and one will soon see the ports busy loading cereals for the exterior.

Matadero cow hides were selling at 9.80, the consumo ones at 9 and 9.30. From Entre Rios at 2.75 gold and Correntinos at 2.50 gold.

The condition of the Rosario markets has reached such a pitch that consignatarios are completely puzzled at the prices offered by buyers of cereals. When gold was down and the European demand slack, exporters paid 7.15 and 7.20 for wheat. Now that gold is up and the news from the exterior markets favourable just the contrary has happened, the week opening at 6.50 and 6.80. The sales amounted to 2,000 quintals at 6.85, 1,500 bags at 7.00 and 3,500 bags at 7.15; the latter parcel was bought up by a local miller. Absolutely nothing was done in maize. The transactions in linseed are still very limited, the few sales that are effected are not sufficient to influence the market. The few parcels that were sold were as follows, 600 bags at 9.57, 350 quintals at 9.50 and 2,350 bags at 8.80, The difference in prices only shows the uncertain standing of the matket.

While Argentine markets are dull those in Montevideo are operating briskly. The prices in wheat are firm and even the demand has begun to grow. The current prices were from 2.75 to 2.80, which are, in comparison with prices paid in other parts, tip top; about 2,200 bags changed hands at said prices.

A special lot of 110 bags of new maize fetched 1.40; the other sales were small and were effected between 90 cents and 1 dollar.

The wool markets offer nothing fresh.

The following s.s. cleared to-day:—

Roman Prince for Santos, Arabian Prince for Dunkirk, Manin for Liverpool and Concordia for Bordeaux, also the full rigged Brit. ship County of Clare for Falmouth via La Plata.

From our Oporto Correspondent we receive the following interesting story of a strange recovery of shipwrecked property:—Some six years ago the Marine Insurance Company, of London insured a case, containing about £20,600 worth of Brazilian bank-notes, shipped in the steamer Buenos Aires from Pernambuco to Rio Janeiro. The steamer was wrecked. When the vessel was sinking all the crew got into the boats with the exception of the Captain and a few who were employed in bringing on deck the passengers' luggage, the mails, and the case containing the Brazilian paper money. While they were thus engaged the steamer seemed to be about to founder and the men were sent to the boats, the Captain remaining on board with one man who was helping him to carry the case in question. The steamer foundered rather suddenly, and the two men were dragged under water. They were picked up, however, by the boats, and the Captain at once inquired whether the case containing the money had been saved. The mate and engineer replied that it had been received on board and stowed away. But when they landed the case was not forthcoming, and the Captain could only suppose that it had been jettisoned by some one on board in order to prevent the boat from sinking. The British Company paid the insurance money at once, and regarded it as a total loss. Not so long ago, however, they received a letter in Portuguese, evidently written by an illiterate person, the contents of which, communicated to the Portuguese authorities, led to the searching of the houses of some fishermen at Povoa de Varzim, a fishing village about 15 miles north of Oporto, with the result that cash and securities of the value of about £900 were recovered. The fishermen stated that while engaged in fishing off the coast of Brazil they picked up, a few weeks after the date of the wreck of the Buenos Ayres, the case containing the money, and divided the contents. It would appear that the reason why some one turned 'King's evidence' was that, although the fishermen in a moment of elation at their discovery made vows to give donations of considerable value to religious institutions, they had neglected to carry them out".
